Privacy Notice

What is personal information?

All personal information collected by Future Skills International is protected by the Australian Government Privacy Act 1988. Section 14 of the Privacy Act contains the Information Privacy Principles (IPPs), which prescribe the rules for handling personal information.

The Privacy Act defines 'personal information' as 'information or an opinion (including information or an opinion forming part of a database), whether true or not, and whether recorded in a material form or not, about an individual whose identity is apparent, or can reasonably be ascertained, from the information or opinion'.

Personal information:

Future Skills International, under its obligations in relation to the provision of skills assessments on behalf of Trades Recognition Australia, is required to collect personal information from you for processing applications, verifying evidence provided with applications and assessing whether you have suitable skills in a nominated occupation.

Who Future Skills International may provide information to?

Future Skills International may give some or all of the information it collects to the Department of Home Affairs (DHA), the Australian Federal Police, Trades Recognition Australia (TRA), your nominated agent or representative, approved organisations or individuals providing in-country verification services, contractors, sub-contractors, the Fair Work Ombudsman, state/territory licensing regulators, industry organisations including Industry Skills Councils, the Australian Skills Quality Authority, state registering bodies and other Australian and state/territory government agencies for the above purposes.

Future Skills International responsibilities:

Future Skills International is required to provide this notice to you at the time of collecting your personal information if they collect your personal information in any manner other than via their website. This information is also provided on our website at www.futureskillsinternational.com.au.

Your responsibilities:

You are responsible for ensuring the accuracy and validity of all information provided to Future Skills International in the course of your application for a skills assessment.

Further information:

More information about the Privacy Act, including a copy of the full text of the Information Privacy Principles (IPPs), can be obtained from the Office of the Australian Information Commissioner's website at www.oaic.gov.au.

Complaints:

Complaints about management of personal information should be directed in writing to Administration Officer at fsi@futureskills.asn.au. Future Skills International will respond in writing within 14 business days.
